Growing Physician Leaders demonstrates that any individual, regardless of temperament or background, can grow in his or her leadership abilities by learning and applying the core techniques of leadership. Hertling's sequential approach helps physicians (and anyone else working in health care) to succeed by teaching them how to understand themselves, how to effectively interact with others, and how to build teams and organizations that accomplish organizational objectives. The book gives physicians a potent tool to improve their personal health, their professional health, their organizational health, and ultimately, our nation's health.

From Jewish to Christian, Mormon and Pagan, women's sacred circles are sprouting up everywhere, in astonishing variety providing a haven where essential female values can be discussed and embraced. This much-needed guide celebrates the rich diversity of women's spiritual lives and offers practical, step-by-step advice for those who want to create and sustain a spirituality group of their own. Sacred Circle shows us how we can use a group to explore our relationship to the sacred, and honor the divine in everyday life. The authors, drawing from their own group experiences as well as those of many diverse groups around the country, share the model they've developed, while offering wise advice on how and why groups work. They propose circle basics, such as listening without an agenda and rotating leadership, and also offer reflections on the power of personal storytelling and thoughts on reclaiming and reinventing ritual. Women longing for a powerful and supportive feminine community in which to thrive spiritually will find vital wisdom here.

A bucket list is not a shopping list, a to-do list, or a travel itinerary. Unfortunately, this is how many people approach writing a bucket list. A bucket list should inform and guide your choices on a daily basis, helping you to clarify your values and craft an exceptional life. In his book, Life Coach Scott Graham helps you do just that. Through a 17-step process, you will not only create a bucket list but you will learn things about yourself that you might not have even known. And the result? You'll lay the foundation for an incredible life.

An introduction to Elementor for WordPress. I quit my job and taught myself how to code, taking me 6 months to gain a good understanding of web design. I wished there was a better and quicker way to create websites, after looking around I found Elementor for WordPress and found my answer. I wrote a book on what I have learned, to help fast track you to creating websites. Elementor is the easiest way to create good looking and unique websites with little to no knowledge of programming. Elementor uses a drag-and-drop interface which makes it so people with no prior knowledge don't have to spend months, up to years learning how to code. You might be a one man or woman business, with not enough funds for a web designer to create a website for you. Or maybe you are an aspiring web designer and want somewhere to begin your journey. This guide is perfect for you. In this book, you will learn about how to set up a website with WordPress, to completing your first site with a working contact form and a beautiful image gallery. Good luck with your journey and I look forward to hearing from you. Carlos

Part business book, part self-development and spiritual growth book, this is a rallying cry for acupuncturists to rise up and show the world that we mean business. Many acupuncturists don't get the business guidance they need to build prospering practices and as a result, many acupuncture clinics are struggling. But it doesn't have to be this way. Acupuncture is experiencing a huge increase in growth, acceptance, and demand and your practice can be as full as you'd like it to be. People need you! You just need to know how to reach and communicate with them. In this book, Katie Altneu shows you how. Katie is an acupuncturist and herbalist with a thriving clinic in Denver, CO and has taught the Clinical Business Management class to acupuncture students at the Colorado School of Traditional Chinese Medicine for years. She knows what it's like to be a passionate, driven, caring acupuncturist... but she also knows the challenges of starting and running a business, including the fears, overwhelm, confusion, and mindset blocks that acu-preneurs face. Based on her personal, tried-and-tested experience, she offers valuable guidance and powerful exercises to help you: -Get clear on your vision -Create your brand and vibe -Understand your potential patients, so you can truly resonate with them -Develop a marketing system that runs on autopilot -Move past the fears and doubts that can get in the way -Become a wildly successful acupuncturist -And so much more! With her warm wit and her tough love, this book provides honest, realistic, and practical tools to help you follow your heart, serve more patients, and build a thriving acupuncture practice.

This is a Summary of Rob Bell's How to Be Here: A Guide to Creating a Life Worth Living The popular pastor and New York Times bestselling author of Love Wins and What We Talk About When We Talk About God shows us how to pursue and realize our dreams, live in the moment, and joyfully do the things that make us come alive. Each of us was created for something great-we just need to figure out what it is and find the courage to do it. Whether it's writing the next great American novel, starting a business, or joining a band, Rob Bell wants to help us make those dreams become reality. Our path is ours and ours alone to pursue, he reminds us, and in doing so, we derive great joy because we are living our passions. How to Be Here lays out concrete steps we can use to define and follow our dreams, interweaving engaging stories, lessons from biblical figures, insights gleaned from Rob's personal experience, and practical advice. Rob gives you the support and insight you need to silence your critics, move from idea to action, take the first step, find joy in the work, persevere through hard times, and surrender to the outcome. Like Stephen Pressfield's classic The War of Art, How to Be Here will inspire readers to seek the lives they were created to lead. Available in a variety of formats, this summary is aimed for those who want to capture the gist of the book but don't have the current time to devour all 224 pages. You get the

A Music Librarian's Guide to Creating Videos and Podcasts is a guide every music librarian will want to use to develop and enhance multi-media skills. The digital age has created a divide between music librarians and their patrons: traditional models of interaction have been superseded or replaced by electronic communication, and virtually all librarians have felt the ensuing decline of their users' information-seeking skills. Music librarians can now be proactive in reaching out to patrons digitally with videos and podcasts, since editing technologies for both platforms have become inexpensive and easy to use. In A Music Librarian's Guide to Creating Videos and Podcasts Katie Buehner and Andrew Justice give music librarians the step-by-step instructions for creating their own content in both Mac and PC platforms. This ready reference on videos should find home in every library and also many personal collections.

The purpose of special needs planning is to create the best possible life for an adult with a disability. This book provides comprehensive guidance on creating a life plan to transition a special needs child to independence or to ensure they are well cared for in the future. Beginning with a vision of a meaningful life for the child, Hal Wright explains how to form a practical plan to reach these goals, how to mentor personal empowerment and task skills, and how to create circles of support to sustain a life plan. He next looks at employment and residential options, and government programs available in the United States. Finally he talks the reader through important financial and legal considerations, including how to fund and manage a special needs trust. This book will be essential reading for all parents or guardians of a child with a cognitive, mental or physical impairment. It will also be of interest to attorneys, financial planners, insurance agents, trust officers and other professionals looking to better serve the special needs community.

Writing centers are places where writers work with each other in an effort to develop ideas, discover a thesis, overcome procrastination, create an outline, or revise a draft. Ultimately, writing centers help students become more effective writers. Visit any college or university in the United States and chances are there is a writing center available to students, staff, and community members. A Guide to Creating Student-Staffed Writing Centers, Grades 6-12 is a how-to and, ultimately, a why-to book for middle school and high school educators as well as for English/language arts teacher candidates and their methods instructors. Writing centers support students and their busy teachers while emphasizing and supporting writing across the curriculum.

As humans, we get to choose what we believe and who we want to be. This book is a ruthlessly pragmatic guide to creating your own answers to life's biggest questions. Each of this book's four chapters covers one of the most important questions a person must ask themselves: - What is the purpose of my life?- How can I best realize the purpose of my life?- Who do I want to be?- How do I want other people to think of me? Rather than give you answers to these questions, this guide provides a framework that helps you develop your own answers while equipping you with the neuroscientific tools necessary to transform yourself into whomever you choose to be. If you are looking for a light read that will make you feel good about yourself, this isn't the book for you. If you want to take the time to think hard, take full ownership of the person you have allowed yourself to become, and permanently transform yourself into the best iteration of that person then you have found your book.
