"At a time when each Society had its own medium of propagation of its researches ... in the form of Transactions, Proceedings, Journals, etc., a need was strongly felt for bringing out a journal devoted exclusively to the study and advancement of Indian culture in all its aspects. [This] encouraged Jas Burgess to launch the 'Indian antiquary' in 1872. The scope ... was in his own words 'as wide as possible' incorporating manners and customs, arts, mythology, feasts, festivals and rites, antiquities and the history of India ... Another laudable aim was to present the readers abstracts of the most recent researches of scholars in India and the West ... 'Indian antiquary' also dealt with local legends, folklore, proverbs, etc. In short 'Indian antiquary' was ...entirely devoted to the study of MAN - the Indian - in all spheres ... " -- introduction to facsimile volumes, published 1985.

Imani is adopted, and she's ready to search for her birth parents. Anna has left behind her family to escape from Holocaust-era Europe to meet a new family--two journeys, one shared family history, and the bonds that make us who we are. Perfect for fans of The Night Diary. Imani knows exactly what she wants as her big bat mitzvah gift: to find her birth parents. She loves her family and her Jewish community in Baltimore, but she has always wondered where she came from, especially since she's black and almost everyone she knows is white. Then her mom's grandmother--Imani's great-grandma Anna--passes away, and Imani discovers an old journal among her books. It's Anna's diary from 1941, the year she was twelve and fled Nazi-occupied Luxembourg alone, sent by her parents to seek refuge in Brooklyn, New York. Anna's diary records her journey to America and her new life with an adoptive family of her own. And as Imani reads the diary, she begins to see her family, and her place in it, in a whole new way.

Love is confusing right? You take one step forward, believing it's right; but the ground crumbles and you realise that it was a wrong decision. What are you supposed to do while standing face to face with love? How do you make the right decisions? What should you do to make love stay? The answers to those questions are definitely not easy to find, because love deals with emotions and that's where everything goes haywire right? Varsha believes that as well. That's why through reading her poetry, which deals with different emotions one can feel when in a state of love, you may get closer to your answer. In this book, Varsha shows that the best way to face love is to be honest with your own self first. Understand yourself, come to peace with yourself, and then you will understand your feelings better and where they take you. Love can be mind-boggling, but that doesn't mean you have to give up - you can start by knowing yourself From the Bottom of Your Heart.
