go public with its shares, it announces an IPO or initial public offering. Anybody interested in buying the shares will then approach the company and pay the share value to own the shares. This is known as primary selling. These shares are then sold in the share market. The share market is a huge place where buyers and sellers converge to conduct daily trade. These shares are then bought and sold, and the seller capitalizes on the current price of the share, which will be much higher than what he had bought it at. The buyer will have the chance to capitalize on the share once its value rises. Companies decide to go public with their shares due to many reasons. But the main reason is to raise capital for their business. So, they will value their company and split the shares. They will then value individual shares depending on their market capture and asset to liability ratio. A small company might capture a big market share, and a big company might capture a small share. It depends on the individual company's board members' decision. The stock market is huge, and there are many companies that list their shares. As an investor, the stock market offers you the opportunity to increase your income without taking on the high risks that are usually associated when venturing in other businesses. By selling stocks, the company raises capital and is able to expand itself exponentially. Therefore, as an investor, when you purchase shares of a company, you have increased the worth of the company. Thus it's a win-win situation for both investor and owner. The negative risk associated with the stock market can be small or large, but it all depends on the number of shares of stock that you, as an investor, have bought. Therefore, if a company's stock shares lose value, the stocks you have bought also loses value, and if you decide to sell your stocks when the value is low, you will have incurred a loss. I will show you how you can minimize your risks and show you different ways in which investors are not only making money, but are also building with the stock market.

Maybe you never took Economics 101, and The Wall Street Journal might as well be written in a foreign language for all the sense it makes to you. But perhaps for the first time in your life you have some money saved, and the 2.5 percent interest you're earning on it in your savings account isn't enough. So you're eyeing the stock market. Problem is you don't know the first thing about it. You've come to the right place. Let's start at the beginning. The stock market allows anyone to purchase a part of any publicly held company, that is, any company that sells stock to investors. In this way, the stock market raises capital a company can use to continue producing its product or offering its service. In return for the use of investors' money, if the company does well, investors get to share in the profit. If the company does poorly, however, investors see a loss. I've created this easy-to-follow Investing for Beginners guide to simplify the learning process for entering the stock market. By leaving out all the confusing Wall Street jargon and explaining things in simple terms, I'm hoping you'll find this as the perfect solution, if you are willing to learn. Before we get started, here is a breakdown of the 7 categories for the official Investing for Beginners guide.

How I learned to Invest When I started investing in the stock market, at 16 years old, it was overwhelming. There were many technical terms that I did not understand. I did not know how to find a good stock or even when to buy a stock. It was even more overwhelming that there were so many investing strategies- short selling, day trading, long-term investing; I did not know which one was the best for me. Even worse was that I did not know how to get started without the fear of losing my money. For many days, months and years, I studied the strategies that successful investors like Warren Buffet have used to become the best. After discovering an easy-to-learn formula for investing in stocks, I decided to create my portfolio. My first stock quickly jumped over 30%, and my second one increased by over 15% in less than 3 months. With an average investor gaining 8% per year, I destroyed the market, gaining 25% in only 3 months. After my success, I knew that my strategy is the best and foolproof. This strategy is so simple and effective that a 16-year-old kid was able to learn it and implement it. The strategy was created by a beginner investor, and for beginner investors.
